Stillwater County

Located in southcentral Montana, Stillwater County is Montana's 26th most populated county with 8,195 residents, according to the 2000 Census.

Columbus, the county seat, is the state's 39th largest city with a population of 1,748. The county is home to the Stillwater Mining Company platinum and palladium mine, one of only a few of its kind in the world. According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1913 and was organized from parts of Carbon, Sweet Grass and Yellowstone Counties. At one time, the county was Crow Indian land. According to the authors, a Crow legend says the Stillwater River was named after a beautiful woman and her betrothed who died there. The almanac says Columbus started as a stage station on the Yellowstone Trail and the Columbus quarry furnished stone for the State Capitol in Helena.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Stillwater County households in 1998 was $36,425. The county is 1,804.7 square miles in area; 1,794.7 square miles in land area and 10 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. According to the Western Regional Climate Center, the average daily low in Columbus in January between 1961 and 1990 was 9.3 degrees above zero. The average daily high in July was 87.0 degrees above. The annual precipitation during the same period was 14.74 inches and the growing season was from May 20 to Sept. 19 (last and first frost).

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county fliers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring. Population data for Montana is released in late December and county data in March. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
